ABOUT TRICIA

Tricia Kitchens has served as the Director of Technology Solutions for the Tennessee Comptroller of the Treasury since 2015 and is currently leading the charge for an Agile Transformation. Prior to joining the Comptroller, Tricia served as Assistant Director of Business Solutions Delivery (served as the CIO for Children's Services), Chief Technology Officer for the State and the Director of Enterprise Services for the State of Tennessee.

Before joining the State of Tennessee staff, Tricia served as a Systems Engineer for multiple software companies that provided Content Management and Business Process Improvement Services to Fortune 100 Companies. She holds a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from Cumberland University and her MBA from the University of Phoenix. She has also earned a Certificate of Completion from Villanova University for Six Sigma Green Belt and Lean Six Sigma.

She has been married to her husband Steve for over 30 years and together they spend our spare time managing their farm where they raise Black Angus Cattle and ride their Harley Davidsons.

WHAT OTHERS HAVE TO SAY

Tricia is the very definition of servant leadership. She sees those she leads as colleagues to teach and to learn from - but never believes that being the leader makes her better than others. As a result, she is an accomplished team builder - drawing on the strengths of others. She leads by allowing everyone to do what they do well and then sits quietly in the shadows while her team receives the praise. --Leighanne

PERSONAL SLOGAN: "LIVE EACH DAY TO IT'S FULLEST, NEVER BE AFRAID TO TRY SOMETHING NEW."
