ABOUT TIFFANY

Tiffany Morris is the Head of Talent Management and Interim Chief Human Resource Officer at Sears Holdings Corporation. Tiffany's work is aligned to enabling business transformation through people with particular focus on workforce planning and optimization, talent management, culture and engagement, and the continuous improvement of the Human Resource profession.

Tiffany has twenty years of Human Resource experience and while she has worked across a variety of HR disciplines, she has focused on partnering with business leaders to translate business strategy into people strategy and advancing the use of fact-based decision making and defined methodologies to advance the Human Resource function into a true business contributor.

Under Tiffany's leadership, the Sears Holdings Corporation Human Resource team has been recognized for its work by a variety of organizations including the Brandon Hall Group, Leadership Excellence - part of HR.com, and Chief Learning Officer magazine. The team has also provided thought leadership to the profession via World at Work, the Institute for Corporate Productivity, the Society of Human Resource Management, The NeuroLeadership Institute, and the Human Resource Management Association of Chicago.

Tiffany holds a Bachelor's of Science degree in Marketing from Northern Illinois University. She and her husband have two children and live in a suburb of Chicago.

WHAT OTHERS HAVE TO SAY

Tiffany is always the professional, even at the most difficult of times. She is always available, responsive, and level headed - important traits for HR. Most important was that she followed through with every request no matter the size or importance. It was a pleasure working with her and her team.
