ABOUT KRISTYN

As a Client Services Representative for the Braintrust Consulting Group, Kristyn's number one responsibility is building solutions that meet client's business challenges. She is happiest when she is working side-by-side with a client to accomplish a common goal. Kristyn recognizes that there is not one solution that matches every situation, so she focuses on creating adaptable strategies for each client. That same adaptability and constant improvement is her favorite aspect of the Agile methodology.

Kristyn has always found joy in working with people. Whether running concessions at rock concerts, planning community events during the Atlanta Olympics, serving on mission trips or managing her own travel business, Kristyn quickly learned that it is often the simple, kind things that make the biggest impact. It is not always about what you do for people, but how you make them feel.

Kristyn holds a BA in English from Rhodes College. Prior to joining the Braintrust team, she managed the product sales fundraisers for a local non-profit where she increased sales, community partnerships and product visibility. Kristyn enjoys the networking and relationship building aspects of sales and has used that passion to help shape the sales culture of Braintrust.

WHAT OTHERS HAVE TO SAY

I have worked with Kristyn for the last five years. I can honestly say that I have never met someone who is so passionate about building relationships. Kristyn loves people and loves connecting with them on a deep personal level. As a customer service representative, Kristyn is happiest when she can go above and beyond to create exceptional experiences for her clients. - Mike B.
