ABOUT SURABHI

Surabhi Khanna started her professional career as a Quality Assurance Analyst and Consultant for AMD. Her initial focus was testing alongside building test framework. Quickly, Surabhi moved into a management role and grew her QA team from 6 people to over 100 in just five years.

In 2012, Surabhi moved to MEDHOST, where she took on the role of Quality Assurance Manager. In this role, she was responsible for leading automation and regression while the company transitioned to Agile. With MEDHOST, Surabhi started with a team of five resources and within a year had more than 50 team members and 50 additional outside contractors working under her leadership.

As a Certified Scrum Professional, Certified ScrumMaster, and Certified Scrum Product Owner, Surabhi took over the role of Agile Coach within MEDHOST in 2016. Her strengths include building teams, delivering results, motivating people, implementing tools and processes, and designing test frameworks.
