ABOUT ADRIANNA

Adrianna (AC) Hayes joined QTS in 2015 as a Product Project Manager. With a varied background in everything from commercial real estate to mortgage origination to technology, Adrianna has over 15 years of project management experience in the Information Technology sector. At QTS, Adrianna loves the fact that she gets to utilize all of the various skills she has acquired over her career and really take part in helping her team realize success.

Adrianna specializes in rallying teams who have a silo work environment and helping them communicate better to allow for organization, planning and execution of goals. As a leader, she believes that a team that can play together will be able to work together so she works very hard to create a fun environment where people enjoy spending time.
