ABOUT DAVID

A proven IT Executive, David Mitchell has spent the majority of his professional career with Macy's, having served almost 20 years in their internal IT department and 15 years in management and leadership roles. He has been recognized for his team leadership, organizational effectiveness, and technology prowess to deliver innovative and stable solutions through multi-functional, global teams.

David's areas of specialization include business intelligence, enterprise data warehousing, financial systems, architecture, and team building. As a leader, David focuses on building and leading cross functional teams that leverage people, process, and technology to drive business value and competitive advantage.

David holds a Business Administration and management information system degree from Auburn University.

PERSONAL SLOGAN: "FOCUS ON THE THINGS THAT REALLY MATTER AND BE HONEST."
