ABOUT JASMINE

After graduating with an undergraduate degree in MIS from the University of Alabama, Jasmine Wright began her career as an Information Systems and business process controls auditor in the PricewaterhouseCoopers Birmingham office. Specializing in Sarbanes Oxley controls, she worked her way to promotion as Manager before leaving the company just shy of her seven year anniversary. She briefly worked as the Director of Implementation Services at Daxko and the Director of Business and Communications with PangeaTwo before continuing her career in the Operations department at ProAssurance, where she is currently employed. Currently, she serves as an Operations Supervisor there managing a group of Business Analysts that serve as subject matter experts for key systems used throughout the company and the business processes in which the systems support. Due to her love for managing and being involved in various projects, she obtained her Project Management Professional (PMP) certification in 2013.

Throughout her career, Jasmine has been involved in various boards and committees, including VP and CISA Coordinator for the Information Systems Audit and Control Association, VP and Director of Student Members Services for the National Association of Black Accountants, and a member of the University of Alabama MIS Alumni Advisory Board Capital Campaign Committee. She is also active in various community service events including United Way campaigns, Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure, American Heart Association, Mercedes Marathon relay, and the Ronald McDonald House of Central Alabama.

Outside of her career, Jasmine enjoys spending time with her husband Kadell Wright and two kids "KJ" and Kyrie.
