ABOUT HOFFMAN

Hoffman is a forward-thinking technology leader with a successful track record executing business-driven technology initiatives in fast-paced, dense, and complex enterprise environments. Hoffman currently works as an IT infrastructure manager for ChenMed where his colleagues think very highly of him. Previously, Hoffman worked at Interim HealthCare as a network operations manager where he was in charge of private/public cloud architecture, software defined datacenters, enterprise storage, and business continuity. Hoffman holds a computer science degree from Florida International University.

PERSONAL SLOGAN: "ANOTHER DAY IN PARADISE."
